Over fields of thymy blossom, Over beds of dewy flowers, Now upon the streamlet's bosom, New within the whispering bow Soft and slow The moonbeams go,

Lightly o'er the crosted billows,
Where the heaving waters flow
Where the sea-bird finds her pille
There the glistening moonbeam
Soft and slow,
Soft and slow,
Ever wandering, soft and slow.

Queen of beauty! robed in splendor Finds thy silent foot no rest? Looks thy smile, so soft and tender, Ne'er upon a kindred breast? Soft and slow Thy footsteps go, In their silver sandals dress'd.

Queen of beauty! canst thou ever Thus thy lonely task fulfil, Sister voices, never never, Answering thee from bower or hill? Soft and alow As winter's snow, Fall thy footsteps, cold and still.

Silent moon! thy smile of beauty
Painting hope will oft resew;
Teach me, then, thy holy duty,
Waste and wild to wander thre
Soft and allow,
Still thay go,
Patient, meek, but lonely too.

Patient, meek, birt lonely too.

A Good Sell......." Have you heard, Bill, that sere was a telegraphic despatch from New York, right, that Sir John Franklin had been found?" "No! is it true?"

"Certainly! Grinnell's ship found him."

"Where did they find him?"

"What was he doing?"

"Leaning against the north pole, and trying to get up steam to thaw himself out."

Resuvation after Death.—It is very singular how the fact of a man's death often seems to give people a truer idea of his character, whether for good or evil, than they have ever possessed while he was living and acting among them. Death is so genuine a fact, that it excludes falseboods, or betrays its emptiaces. It is a touchstone that proves the gold, and dishoners the baser metal. Could the departed, whoever he may be, return in a week after his decease, he would almost invariably find himself at a higher or lower point than he had formerly occupied on the scale of public appreciation.—Hausthorn.

DEDUCTION IN GAS FIXTURES.

We are now receiving the largest stock of Gas Fivtures eyer offered in this city, comprising every variety of style and finish. They have been selected from the celebrated factory of Cornelius & Co., Philadelphia, and include all of their patterns.

Owing to a reduction in price of Gas Fixtures, we are now prepared to furnish them at a less rate than they have ever yet been sold here or elsewhere.

To keep pace with the above improvement the price of gas tabling has been materially reduced, and our increased facilities warrants us in saying that we are prepared and can execute any work we may undertake cheaper and better than any other establishment in this city.

W. BROWNING, Merchant Tailor, under the United States Hotel, would respect

He keeps constantly on hand a large assertment of ancy Articles, such as Gloves, Cravats, Collars, Um-and fever, fever and ague, dumb ague, irregularly in women, &c. &c., without the aid of those noxious druge usually relied upon, viz: calomel, arsenic, or quinine.

After many years' patient experiment and research as a Pharmaceutist, the undersigned candidly believes that he has perfected a remedy for the above and kindred complaints, which will cure at least ninety-five cases only of every hundred. He feels, very sensibly, that this sounds boastful and chimerical, but he has now used it, under his own observation, upor more than one thousand severe cases without one failure.

Before asking the confidence of the public, however, and without making any drafts upon its credulity, the inventor of this medicine desires to show that his statements are not those of a reckless and unprincipled man. We therefore ask attention to the following joint certificate from the Hon. William A. Newell, M. D., an eminently successful surgeon and physician, of New Brunswick, N. J.

To Physicians and the Public.

"Having extensively used 'Desalter's Anti-periodic or Fever and Ague Pills,' in our practice, we take pleasure in stating thus publicly our experience of their efficacy. We have used them in hundreds of cases of fever and ague, and have never known a person to have a second chill after commencing with them; and as they contain no salt of arsenic or quinine, the former of which sometimes operates so deleteriously as an accumulative poison, we consider them a safe and valuable remedy, that ought to be within reach of every family that is liable to chills and faver. To our professional brethren we deem it proper to say, that we have been made acquainted with the composition of these pills, and find them strictly a scientific preparation. Moreover, as they are prupared by an upothecary of more than twenty years' active experience, we can wouch that they are skifully compounded. We carnestly commend them to the notice of the profession, and believer has will cure after all usual remedies have failed."

ther and advantages by which it is distinguished from others.

Peculiarities of Deshier's Anti-Periodic Pills.

1st. They exert a marked, specific, and almost infallible anti-periodic power, by which they neutralise the periodical and constantly-recurring attacks which characterize fever and ague. The law by which the remedy acts everpowers the law of the disease.

2d. While they thus manifest great activity and power, they are yet perfectly harmless. A well person (even if an infant) may take great quantities not only without inconvenience, but without seeming effect of any kind.

2d. They never disagree with the weakest stomach, almost instantly restore appetite, and break up that distressing sense of bodily prostration which always accompanies this disease.

4th. They may be taken without regard to age, sex,

NEW FAMILY GROCERY.—The subscriber, having taken the old established stand under Odd Fellows' Hall, No. 503, Seventh street, has just returned from the North, and is now opening a general assortment of Fresh FAMILY GROCERIES, selected by an experienced hand from the best houses, and on such terms as will permit him to sell them as low as any house in the city. In order that he may establish his business on a fair basis, it will be conducted on the cash system, which he believes will be better for both seller and buyer. By strict attention to business he bropes to receive the patronage of his friends and the public generally. Fair dealing may be expected in all cases.
